Advance Notices

Please remember that the Cranmer Singers (formerly the Cathedral Singers), under the direction of Frances Macdonnell, continue to sing Choral Evensong in various parishes in and around Ottawa. All are BCP services. Try and support Frances (our Branch Treasurer) and members of the choir as they uphold long-standing traditional Anglican services.

There are many other Evensongs held in parishes within the Diocese of Ottawa. Please try to support them in order to show how much BCP services are still appreciated. Although these various Evensongs are not Branch-sponsored, we are encouraged to attend.

We hope to continue with our long-standing tradition of having our Annual Evensong and dinner in the Parish of Carp in late June. Watch for details in the next Newsletter.

A Lenten Quiet Day

will be led by Sister Elizabeth Anne, SSJD

Saturday, March 17th - - - - - 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

A Lenten Quiet Day, centered around the theme of “Living Prayer in Daily Life” will be held at St Barnabas, Ottawa. The day will begin with Morning Prayer at 9:00 a.m., and will end with Evening Prayer at 3:00 p.m. Although homemade soup will be provided for lunch, you are invited to bring a small bag lunch if you wish. Members are encouraged to attend this Quiet Day being held during the middle of Lent.

Sr Elizabeth Anne will preach the following morning at the 10:30 a.m. High Mass on Lent IV at St Barnabas. The Parish’s Annual Mothering Sunday Tea, to which all are invited, will follow the Service. This will also be the occasion when the Parish will honour a former Rector, Canon James Winters, on the 60th Anniversary of his Ordination to the Priesthood.

Advent and Lenten Quiet Days have traditionally been popular times of reflection and contemplation. The Quiet Days have been well received by those who have attended. They form an excellent means of preparation for the major feast days of the Church. Plan to join with parishioners at St Barnabas, local Associates of the SSJD, and fellow members of the Branch, as we journey through Lent and prepare ourselves for Easter. If you require transportation, please call Joan Wilson at 613-749-5058. She will be glad to assist you.

Clergy Attendance
32nd Atlantic Theological Conference

Clergy interested in attending this year's Atlantic Theological Conference in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, and who would appreciate financial assistance, are invited to apply for same. To confirm your intention, please contact Joan Wilson at 613-749-5058.

The deadline for applications will be Friday, April 20th.

This deadline will enable the Branch Executive to determine how many clergy may be helped by the Branch, allow for time to process requests prior to the beginning of the Conference, and provide for adequate time to make travel arrangements.

2012 - The BCP Anniversary Essay Competition!

In celebration of the 350th anniversary of the 1662 Book of Common Prayer and of the 50th anniversary of the 1962 Book of Common Prayer (Canada) in 2012, the Ottawa Branch has announced an essay competition with the intention of raising the interest in and use of the Book of Common Prayer amongst Canadians aged 17 - 30.

Prizes of $2,500, $1,500, and $750 are being offered for the best essays of approximately 3,000 words on the following topic: Discuss the relevance of the Book of Common Prayer in the 21st Century, in the light of the following two quotations.

“The BCP is held in great affection by all kinds of Anglicans. This is not simply because of its beautiful language, but because it carefully reflects both Holy Scripture and the teaching of the early, undivided Christian Church. . . . Prayers that have stood the test of time can still speak with an uncanny freshness today.” Sue Careless, Discovering the Book of Common Prayer, Volume 1, Anglican Book Centre Publishing, 2003, 2006, 2011, p. 24.

“Anglicans committed to the authority of Scripture have used and continue to use the Book of Common Prayer because it allows them to worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness and with spiritual understanding. The Book of Common Prayer . . . is a well-tested way of praying the Holy Scripture in public worship and in a disciplined manner for the whole Christian Year, from Advent to the end of the Trinity season.” Peter Toon, The Anglican Formularies and Holy Scriptures, Brynmill Press/Edgeways Books, Herefordshire, The Prayer Book Society of the United States, Philadelphia, 2006, p. 26.

Candidates for the competition must have Canadian citizenship, or landed immigrant status in Canada, and be aged between 17 - 30 on June 30, 2012. Candidates need not be resident in Canada. Essays may be written in either English or French. The closing date for applications to be received is June 30, 2012.

The essays will be reviewed by a jury of three eminent Canadian Anglican theologians. Judgement will be based on clarity, composition, and reference to the topic. The determination of the judges need not be unanimous. The decision of the judges will be final, and no essays will be returned, or commented upon directly. All candidates will be informed of the results of the jury's deliberations.

If insufficient suitable essays are submitted, it is possible that not all prizes may be awarded. Essays become the property of the Prayer Book Society of Canada, Ottawa Branch, and may be posted on the Society's website or published in the Society's Newsletters.

Do you know any young people who might be interested in writing an essay in the hopes of winning one of the prizes? If so, please ask them to contact either:

The Book of Common Prayer

The Protestant Reformation erupted in Europe in the first half of the 16th century. While this influenced some of the clergy in England, King Henry VIII at first kept the Church of England in the Catholic fold, acknowledging the Pope as the head of the church. However, in the 1530's he broke with the Pope, declared himself the head of the Church of England and dissolved the monasteries, seizing their wealth, but the church continued to use the Latin Mass.

The accession to the throne of the ten-year-old, Protestant-tutored Edward VI brought Protestant-influenced clergy and nobles to positions of power. Thus the Archbishop of Canterbury Thomas Cranmer was able to reform the Church, especially its worship. A conservative and cautious man, he wanted, though influenced by Protestant teaching, to protect the traditions, worship, and doctrine from too much innovation. He sought to simplify the mix of several missals so as to arrive at one common service of Holy Communion in the language of the people. He also wanted to simplify the daily prayer services, called offices, of which there were seven, appointed for several times during the day.

Thus in 1549 the Book of Common Prayer was brought out to be used in all the churches. It contained the service of Holy Communion, or Lord's Supper, a lectionary, the Psalter, and just two daily offices, Morning Prayer and evening Prayer. As the Preface stated, "the Curates shall need none other books for their public service, but this book and the Bible." In 1552 the Book was revised to meet some of the Protestants' objections. It could be said this was the beginning of Anglicanism.

In 1553 the young king died and was succeeded by his half-sister, Mary Tudor, sometimes called "Bloody Mary". She overturned the reforms of Cranmer, who along with other bishops was burned at the stake. Her reign was short; she was succeeded by Elizabeth I in 1558.

Ever the survivor, Elizabeth calculated that it was better to side with Protestant London even if the majority of Englishmen, scattered around the country, were of Catholic sympathies. Parliament passed the Act of Supremacy declaring her Supreme Governor of the Realm, including spiritual and ecclesiastical things. It also passed the Act of Uniformity which restored the 1552 Prayer Book with some minor changes. The Book was generally accepted by the people.

In 1603 James I became king, followed by Charles I in 1625. These reigns were contentious, not just about the king's troubles with Parliament but also the Church, its form of ministry and worship services - heightened by intemperances and foolish actions on all sides. Charles sought to impose episcopacy and a Book of Common Prayer in Scotland, which most Scots rejected. Interestingly, this Book later became the basis of the American Book of Common Prayer.

After the outbreak of the Civil War in 1642, and the dominance of the strongly Puritan Parliamentary forces, the Westminster Assembly began its deliberations in 1643, which led to the very Calvinist Westminster Confession of Faith with its Longer and Shorter Catechisms, abolishing the episcopacy, and forbidding the use of the Prayer Book.

Cromwell's victory resulted in the fleeing to the continent of many of the clergy and the imposition of Puritanism in England. While the Cromwell regime was a brutal dictatorship, tyrants in those days did not have the means of 21st century dictators for imposing their will all over the country and so, in places, some Anglican practices were carried on.

When Richard Cromwell succeeded his father in 1658, he was unable to maintain the army's loyalty and this led to the restoration of the monarchy on 1660. Charles II restored the episcopacy and appointed a commission of twelve bishops and twelve Puritan divines to advise upon and revise the Book of Common Prayer. The bishops rejected most of the Puritans' "exceptions" and considered a revision that would have made the book much like the 1549 Book. In the end they wound up with a Book not very different from the 1552 Book.

This Book, commonly called the 1662 Book, became the standard Book for the Anglican Communion. It was brought to the various colonies and protectorates of the British Empire. Thus it was the Book used in the Church of England in Canada, which in the 1950's changed its name to the Anglican Church of Canada. The Canadian Book had minor changes and additions to meet Canadian needs, e.g. prayers for the Governor General and the Lieutenant-Governors of the provinces, a Service for Dominion Day, etc.

In the 1920's the Church of England prepared a draft revision of the Prayer Book but it was voted down by Parliament in 1926. The Episcopal Church in the USA revised its Book in 1928. The Book of Common Prayer that is now the official Book of the Canadian Church (though sadly, in many parishes used only at some usually minor services, and in many others completely replaced by alternative service books) was revised in 1962, after many years of deliberation. It contains quite a number of changes but it is still in the spirit and language of its predecessors.

NOTES FROM THE TREASURER

During 2011 the Branch donated $500 to the Cranmer Conference, $1,000 to the cost of the National Newsletter, $1,050 to clergy attending the Atlantic Theological Conference, and $500 to the St. Michael Youth Camp; as well, the Branch incurred the usual costs of sending out our Newsletters, and donated copies of the BCP to the students at Augustine College.

Unfortunately, 2011 was a very low year for donations to the Branch: we received only $2,783 instead of the usual $4,000. The Branch realized a profit of only $200 on the sale of Christmas products, again a rather smaller figure than usual. These numbers undoubtedly illustrate the effects of the general ageing of the Branch's membership.

As a result, the Branch lost approximately $1,400 during the year, leaving it with a bank balance of $5,606.24. Here are the figures:

Carried forward from 2010:	$7,003.41
Total income in 2011:	$5,320.81
Total expenses in 2011:	$6,717.98
Balance at the end of 2011:	$5,606.24 - a loss of approximately $1,400.00

As you know, the Branch has committed to operating its 2012 Essay Contest to celebrate the anniversary of the 1662 Book of Common Prayer, and the costs of that competition, including its prizes, will be close to $6,500, depending on the number of essays submitted for which we will have to pay juries' fees. Your Treasurer hopes that sufficient money will come in during 2012 that we will be able to pay the costs of the Competition without spending capital. Donations towards the costs of the Competition will be very welcome. We are most grateful that our members continue to support the work of the Branch through financial donations. Your help is always appreciated, and all contributions are fully tax-receiptable.
